dedication

We, the editorial staff of the 1974 Shield, dedicate this year's yearbook to two men, both graduates of St. Michael's who have been ardent members of the St. Michael's community.

The first man will be remembered for the great things that he did for St. Michael's, all of which were done before our time but still benefit us all. For over a score of years he served our College as Dean of Studies and as President. Under his stewardship, St. Michael's increased its enrollment, built five new buildings on the South Campus, formulated the "St. Michael's Plan" curriculum, and greatly expanded the role of lay people in the administration and government of the College. He was also a scholar, having written several articles on Catholic education, and having lectured at the University of Montreal and the Catholic University of America as well as here at St. Michael's.

The second man we have choosen to honor is one who has contributed much to the intellectual life of St. Michael's through his dedication to his profession, the subject quality of his classroom presentation, and the innovations he has made in the teaching process. But even more than these, we honor him for the devotion, warmth, and interest he has had for us students and the inordinate amounts of time he gave to serving us.

K. McD.

For these reasons, we dedicate the 1974 Shield to the late Reverend Gerald E. Dupont, S.S.E., and to Doctor Frank M. Bryan.

dave mason

Homecoming weekend was highlighted this year with the Dave Mason concert which was held on Friday, October 2. The newly finished Ross Sport Center was the site of the first on-campus concert in St. Mikes' history. A hard working Social Committee transformed the 'basketball palace' into a very suitable and accommodating hall almost overnight.

A large enthusiastic crowd was warmed up by a witty comedian before the main attraction, Dave Mason, appeared on stage. Those of us who attended will long remember that Dave Mason greeted the audience with those now infamous words "somebody stole my favorite guitar." Despite the tragic loss Dave Mason managed to capture the hearts of all in attendance. Playing many of his old favorites interspersed with some of his soon to be released selections, Mason, had the Ross Sport Center rocking.

football

This was a most discouraging year for Club Football here at the Hilltop. Our only win was a 20-12 decision over Western New England College. "Injuries", as old and as worn out an excuse as it is, has to be considered when we judge this team, though. Certainly any team that loses 12 to 14 players because of some type of injury is going to feel the effects. We're not suggesting that St. Mike's would have won all their games if they had a somewhat shorter doctor's list, but rather, we feel that most games would have been a lot closer.

With Ollie Spellman at quarterback and a healthy Kevin Riddick and Leo LaPrade at the running slots, we had an explosive backfield. Unfortunately this combination was only together for a short time before injuries set in. Larry Halloran did a good job of filling in, but he alone wasn't enough.

The defense was held together by big John Misiaszek. An All-Conference performer for three years, John was a tower of strength at defensive end. Brian Timmons at middle linebacker was another defensive stalwart; and of course there was Dennis Greenwood in the secondary. There wasn't enough help from the other positions though, and this allowed our opponents to move the ball with relative ease.

soccer

When the clouds came down off the mountains to cover the field in the waning moments of the final game, it seemed like only a suitable closing for a dismal season. It was one which saw only one victory, and numerous lopsided defeats. And yet it did have its bright spots.

When the season was over senior Co-Captain Darren Schneck had started in every soccer game since his freshman year. As impressive as this may seem, equally impressive was his talent. Despite such a poor season Darren never failed to hustle and it is for this that he will long be remembered.

Others who made noteworthy contributions to the team were Senior defensemen Steve Laverty and Bill Langlands. Steve a four-year member of the team had a hard-nosed style of play which made him a favorite of the fans. Bill, often referred to as the "other senior" was the "speed King" of the defense. His quickness and agility made up for what he lacked in muscle and enabled him to be an excellent defenseman.

St. Mikes will have better soccer teams and maybe a few worse. Just the same, we had ours and although they weren't the greatest, it's all we had.

basketball

The Ross Sports Center finally became a reality for St. Michael's and on Dec. 1, 3,500 people jammed into the spanking new facility to witness the opening of the 73-74 basketball season. An overly ambitious Ed Markey invited powerful Niagara University to participate in this grand opening and although they trounced us, the evening was quite a success.

When the real season began a few days later, several fans travelled down to Middlebury with the hope of seeing Bobby Toner break into the 1,000 point club. Bobby didn't quite make it that night, but he did come up with a last second basket to lift us to a one point victory. It was our first win of the year and before the final buzzer sounded we came up with 16 others, against 11 losses.

We made the New England Regional Tournament for the second year in a row and with expectations as high as alcohol content, several hundred Michaelmen journeyed to Bentley College to take part in the proceedings. Hartford was our opponent in the opening game, and despite a determined effort, we fell short down the stretch. Although the loss spoiled our dreams of Evansville, it did not wipe out the memory of a fine season.

Frannie Laffin excelled once again. Not only did he set the all time St. Mike's scoring record, but he went over the 2,000 point mark; a feat accomplished by only a handful of college athletes.

Bobby Toner did eventually go over the 1,000 point mark in scoring. But scoring is not what he will be remembered for most. It was his "fancy-dan" style of play. His exciting passes and impossible drives brought the fans to their feet on numerous occasions.

There was another senior who will not longer don the Purple and Gold. No longer will we see the slumbering giant ease his way down the court and throw that soft jumper that most often tickled the twine. Most didn't appreciate Gary Fagan's talents, for it seemed he always got caught in the shuffle. But he was always ready if called upon and certainly, just by being there, he contributed.

trial of buckley's
four reforms

dr. george olgyay, chairman and professor, department of political science
st. michael's college
winooski, vermont 05404

dear george:

it is with deepest sorrow that i must inform you that i am hereby resigning my position of associate professor of political science at st. michael's college to accept the position of chairman of government of montana state university.

boxing has always taught me that you fight the good fight and then, win or lose, you accept the consequences. i want to thank my colleagues on the faculty, and the students, for the massive vote of confidence they have given me and the principles for which i stand. professor hannagan has represented my position with profound courage, wisdom, and decorum. we should all applaud his efforts. the students have been a constant source of strength for me and have shown great sense of purpose, resolve, and good judgement. and thank you too, george, for your support, given quietly, yet so consistently and completely.

vermont has always sent her sons westward into strange lands far away from home. i am about to join that historical exodus with a sense of loss hardened by a lifetime in the green mountains.

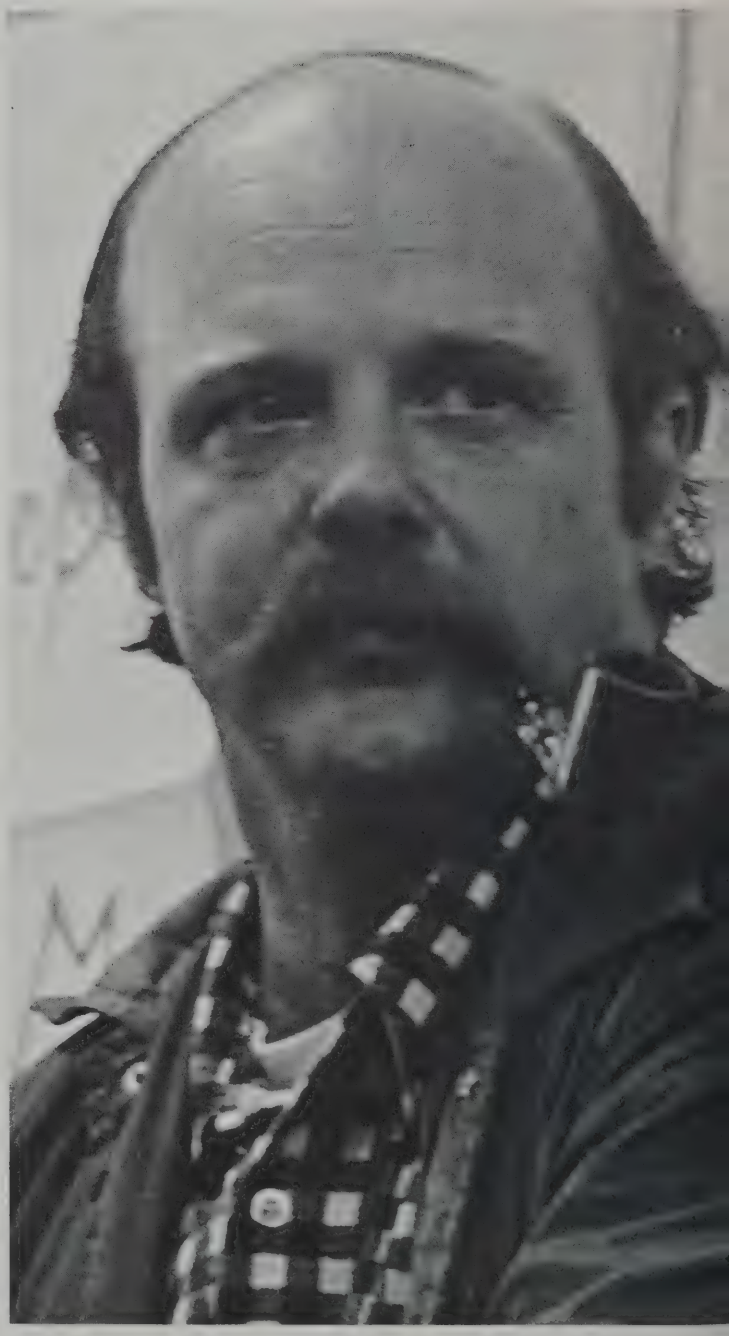

i once wrote somewhere that the great gift that vermont gives its sons is an enduring sense of homeland. working at st. michaels has deepened that sense and i will carry it everywhere, listening in the late hours for whip-'or-wills from the back beyond.

sincerely,
frank m. bryan, associate professor

ed furtek, editor

the publication of the 1974 shield climaxes innumerable hours of hard work on the part of all involved. in may of 1973 we began, like any staff, with high goals and countless innovations in mind. along the way, it was necessary to sacrifice many of these goals and innovations, due to financial problems, deadlines, and other hassles. one thing which we refused to surrender, however, was our firm belief that people make a yearbook. as a result, faces were our chief concern. and so in closing, we hope you will enjoy seeing your companions and classmates and will recall many of the good times you had with them.

sincerely,
